AGENCY EMERGENCY PLAN

INSTRUCTIONS TO BE FOLLOWED UNDER CIRCUMSTANCES OF EMERGENCY

Rescission: Notice [REDACTED] dated 19 May 1953

1. Prudent foresight requires that plans be formulated to ensure the carrying on of the business of the Central Intelligence Agency at all times and under all circumstances of emergency, including fire, riot, natural disaster, and enemy attack. This must necessarily be based upon the continued faithful service of the members of Central Intelligence Agency under emergency conditions, the same as under normal conditions. To this end, the following instructions are hereby issued for the information and guidance of all members of the Agency.

2. In the case of a fire, riot, natural disaster, or any type of emergency (other than attack by an enemy) occurring during duty hours, you should follow the rules announced in the posted notices to employees for action in case of fire, and all other applicable standing regulations and notices, giving particular emphasis to the securing of all classified material, and you should carry out the instructions and follow the guidance of your Building Emergency Officers and their assistants in evacuating the buildings and proceeding to places of safety. Members of the organized CIA Security Patrol, distinguishable by arm bands worn on the left arm, red in color, bearing the words "SECURITY PATROL" in white letters 1 1/2 inches high, will be on the scene to afford overall protection and preserve order pursuant to authority vested in the Security Patrol. Appropriate instructions will be issued by your Building Emergency Officers or their assistants, or by members of the Security Patrol, concerning when and where you will resume work upon abatement of the emergency.

3. In the case of an enemy attack, or a condition of alert preliminary thereto, the following procedure will be followed:

a. If on duty, you will secure promptly all classified material and proceed as directed by your Building Emergency Officers and their assistants, in accordance with the plans and standing instructions in force in your building.

b. If not on duty, you should follow the published instructions of local civil defense authorities for the protection of the members of your family and the mitigation of damage to your property and should otherwise assist and cooperate with them.
